One of the ULC's fundamental beliefs is that everyone should be afforded equal freedom to exercise their religious beliefs – whatever those beliefs may be. This first amendment right, granted by the U.S. Constitution, includes the freedom to become ordained as a minister without jumping through numerous hoops and taking expensive courses.

The ULC provides ordinations entirely free of charge to anyone that seeks to join. Once ordained, you have the right to perform weddings, baptisms, and other ceremonies. Officiating a ceremony is a tremendous honor, and great responsibility. To assist you, we offer an array of tips, tools, and materials.

By becoming a ULC minister, you'll also be joining a vast and spiritually-diverse community of people. Whether you're still defining your religious philosophy, or have a highly-developed understanding of your spirituality – the ULC community is an inclusive place which encourages the expression of beliefs and the sharing of ideas.

- To become ordained, please fill out the form on the right side of this page. We will record your information and store it in our minister database.
- We care about your privacy; your information will not be shared with any third parties. Unless you subscribe to our monthly newsletter, we will not e-mail you unless we need to communicate important information relevant to your ordination.
- For legal reasons, we cannot accept applications from individuals under the age of 18. To submit this form, you must certify that you are 18 years of age or older.
- Only valid legal names and addresses will be accepted.
- We reserve all rights to revoke any ordination or reject any application for ordination if it is discovered that it was made or obtained using incorrect or fraudulent information.

Testimonials

When my cousin explained how simple the process was for getting ordained, I admit I was a little skeptical. As it turned out, becoming a minister opened a ton of doors for me. I'm so glad I joined!

-- Eric Young

When I mentioned my interest in starting a ministry, one of my friends recommended getting ordained online. Thanks to the ULC's helpful materials and products, my ministry was off the ground in no time!

-- Michael Hunter

When my little brother asked me to officiate... I was ecstatic. Getting ordained proved even easier than I thought! The ceremony was beautiful and the ULC made it all possible.

-- Elizabeth Randolph

Choose Shipping Speed Shipping & Returns Policy

While we are working hard to get all minister supply orders out promptly, we're still receiving reports that some orders shipped via USPS are arriving later than anticipated as a result of the ...crisis and ... changes... Please be aware that depending on where you are located, your order may arrive later than you would ordinarily expect.

While most people are only seeing delays of a few days on top of the estimated USPS shipping times below, many have reported much longer delays. Selecting either the two-day or overnight shipping option via FedEx, which have guaranteed delivery dates, will likely assure more prompt receipt. We apologize for any inconvenience, and feel free to contact us if you have any questions about the shipment of your order.
